João Sequeira Carlos
Conference President

The city of Lisboa is ready to host the 19th WONCA Europe Conference. We expect your active participation and involvement to create a memorable conference. This is a special occasion to highlight the role of General Practice/Family Medicine in healthcare systems and to celebrate the work of every family doctor around the world.

Alexandre Gouveia
Organizing Committee Chairman

In the age of electronic communication and information overload, live conferences represent a distinct opportunity for face-to-face encounters and unique learning experiences. We are fully engaged in creating an exciting conference, and to make WONCA Lisbon 2014 a moment to remember in the history of General Practice and Family Medicine.

Isabel Pereira dos Santos
Scientific Committee Chair

We are devising “New Routes for General Practice and Family Medicine”. An event that will be symbolic of the progress in Family Medicine/General Practice. Attending the 19th WONCA Europe Conference 2014 will give us – I am quite sure – an ample opportunity for sharing, discovering and building new knowledge.

Luís Pisco
International Advisory Board Chairman

The organization of this WONCA European Conference is a great opportunity for Portuguese Family Medicine. I am absolutely sure that by the end of this event, family physicians from all over Europe and other parts of the world will find their stay in Lisbon a very pleasant one and the congress, itself, a scientific event to be remembered.

Keynote Speakers

Joana Carneiro

Orchestrating Medicine

Noted for her vibrant performances in a wide diversity of musical styles, Joana Carneiro has attracted considerable attention as one of the most outstanding young conductors working today. In January 2009, she was named Music Director of the Berkeley Symphony, succeeding Kent Nagano and becoming only the third music director in the 40-year history of the orchestra.

Carl Edvard Rudebeck

Body and words in the consultation

Carl Edvard Rudebeck is a specialist in general practice and a research supervisor in Kalmar County (Sweden). He is also a professor at the Department for Community Medicine, University of Tromsø (Norway). His favorite topics of research are the intersubjectivity in the doctor-patient relationship and the importance of bodily experience.

Kamran Abbasi

Knowledge management

Kamran Abbasi is the International and Digital Editor of the British Medical Journal (BMJ). In the past, Dr. Abbasi worked as editor of the Bulletin of the World Health Organization and as chief executive and editor-in-chief of On-Medica. He was also medical director of the UK-based independent health information company Dr. Foster. Dr. Abbasi is also a keen cricket enthusiast.

Margaret McCartney

Making patients better

Margaret McCartney is a GP in Glasgow and the author of "The Patient Paradox, why sexed up medicine is bad for your health". She has won awards for her writing, contributes regularly for the British Medical Journal and the lay press, and broadcasts for Radio 4's Inside Health. She is a keen blogger and tweeter. Her interests are in screening, evidence, risk and social inequalities.

Richard Roberts

Teach and learn around the world

Richard Roberts is a Professor and past head of the Department of Family Medicine at the University of Wisconsin School of Medicine & Public Health. A family physician and attorney, he has been since 1987 in a teaching practice in Belleville, a rural community. Professor Roberts is past President of the World Organization of Family Doctors (WONCA) and the American Academy of Family Physicians.

Michael Kidd

Innovation in GP/FM and primary care

Michael Kidd is a family doctor and president of the World Organization of Family Doctors (WONCA). He is the executive dean of the faculty of health sciences at Flinders University and past president of the Royal Australian College of General Practitioners and also chairs the Australian Government's advisory council on HIV/AIDS, viral hepatitis and sexually transmissible infections.
